The following papers are published for general information—

Extracts from the Diary of the Assistant Commissioner in charge of Police, Tumkur district, for the week ending 19th March 1898.

I found that the plague leaflets were attached to chavadies and temples in the villages. Converses with the patels as I passed on about the Plague Preventive Measures. I found that they had well understood the nature of the disease, its dangerous character and the instructions of the Government to prevent its spreading into our province. They were sympathetic towards the village sanitary reforms and found that an initiative had been taken in more than one village. From the attitude of the patels and other villagers with whom I conversed, I gathered that there could be no opposition in effecting the sanitary reforms and that the scheme would prove a success if only the Taluk officers evinced interest in the matter.

Met by appointment at Holarhalli about 20 patels whose registers I checked and enquired about the night watch and the state of crime in their villages. I took this opportunity to explain to them the nature of the plague, its dangerous characteristics and the measures necessary to cope with it successfully. They appeared to me to be willing to do anything demanded of them in order to prevent the plague from entering into the province.

Extract from the Diary of the Assistant Superintendent of Police, Shimoga district, for the week ending 19th March 1898.

In all the villages through which we passed and to the patels of others which we could not visit I spoke about night watch system and how it was to be kept, asked them to freely make use of the forms given regarding suspicious-looking strangers and told them their duty regarding plague patients and their companions as soon as the plague is discovered.

Extract from the Diary of the Superintendent of Police, Bangalore district, for the week ending 26th March 1898.

At Sarjapur, found that special attention had been enforced by the Amildar to the instructions received from the Plague Commissioner, regarding the removal of manure pits and the general sanitation of villages. It is gratifying to note that these instructions have resulted in the improved sanitation of villages throughout the district.

Inspected Attibele station, and went through the village. Found that, owing to the fact that the drain running through the principal street is covered over with stone slabs, there is an accumulation of sewage underneath which appears to have been never removed, and the stench from which is in consequence very bad. The Amildar's attention will be drawn to this.

The following Notice by the Mining Board, Kolar Gold Fields, is published for general information :—

"The Superintendents of the different mines have decided not to employ or allow to reside on their mines, people whether Europeans, Eurasians, or natives coming from plague infected areas and they have furthermore agreed that employees bringing relatives or others from such areas shall be instantly dismissed. This is published to save intending immigrants from plague districts the expense of the journey to the Kolar Gold Fields."
